WELCOME TO A CAFFEINATED WORLD

"I fell in love with the aesthetics of the cafe racer early on."

"I grew up near Alice's restaurant (on Highway 35/ Skyline Blvd south of San Francisco.) This was a biking mecca, and some of the finest riding in the world...then came the movies Mad Max and The Road Warrior...and cafe raced bikes took on a new dimension indeed."

So...What is a cafe racer, anyway?
Basically, back in the London of the 50's people used to hang out in Coffee Bars/Pubs/Cafe's...

You created more of your own entertainment then, and one decidedly spirited form of that was putting a record on the jukebox, and racing a buddy of yours down the road on your stripped down, hotted up bike. The point was to get back before your mate AND before the record ended. The rider didn't really win anything except a pint or a cuppa and of course bragging rights.

Times have changed, but the Cafe racer scene is timeless and is as strong now as it ever was.

To us, to Cafe Race essentially means crafting the right ride to start racing from the cafe and back again. It is the hooligan ethos of lean, stripped down bikes with clip-on handlebars, solo seats and riders with bravado and style. It is the original, spectacular vintage version of the modern crotch rocket.

The drag bar is the easiest fit. It is almost always shorter than your stock handlebar, which means that you will probably be able to swap without replacing your throttle, brake and clutch cables, but be aware that sometimes you have to do that when changing barlength and height.

BAND-O-GEAR

The Band-O-Gear was one of our designs a little ahead of it's time...we thought of updating the pictures with an iPhone, USB thumb drive or other such nanotechnology, but then reconsidered, thinking everybody would get a good laugh out of how much gadgetry you used to carry. Made of cordura or Ripstop, with a neoprene sleeve.

The original Band-O in 2004:

- A Hydration Pack with Bite Valve
- Cell Phone - brick style baby!
- Digital camera (or Polaroid)
- PDA - That's vintage Palm!
- A pocket Atlas for you book readers
- And finally...a CD player!

The updated Band-O in 2011:

- A Hydration Pack with Bite Valve
- iPhone - mini computer style baby!
- Digital camera (or iPhone)
- Disc-Lock?
- A pocket Atlas (analog is not completely dead!)
- All-in one wrench tools
- 7" Tablet Computer
- Garmin GPS or similar
- Chocolate...lots and lots of chocolate.

It's still a cool design and is so much easier to wear than a back back that you will wonder how you ever survived without it.
